Contents

Fool’s gold? ... The use of marcasite and pyrite from ancient times
Lynne Bartlett

A combined spectroscopic method for non-destructive gem identification
L.I. Tretyakova, N.B. Reshetnyak and Yu. V. Tretyakova

Inclusions in synthetic rubies and synthetic sapphires produced by hydrothermal methods (TAIRUS, Novosibirsk, Russia)
A. Peretti, J. Mullis, F. Mouawad and R. Guggenheim

Letters

Abstracts

Book Reviews

Proceedings of the Gemmological Association and Gem Testing Laboratory of Great Britain and Notices

Cover Picture
From sparks to sparkle
Wheel-lock gun mechanism. Photograph courtesy of the Victoria and Albert Museum.
Marcasite brooch- pendant. Photograph courtesy of the British Museum.
(See Fool’s gold? ... The use of marcasite and pyrite from ancient times, pp. 517–531.)